課程目標 Course Objectives

This course is an introduction to health economics at the graduate level. The course will focus on recent empirical work related to investigating how different aspects of the health care system function and assessing the implications for different policies designed to improve that functioning. We also will measure the welfare impacts of health insurance and its market structure.

The course's primary goals will be (i) Assist students in understanding health economics concepts and analytical tools. (ii) Train students to connect economic theory with the health economic phenomenon to establish students' basic concepts and extended views in health economics, and (iii) Analyze and discuss current research and development on healthy economies.
