課程描述 Course Description

This course, International Business, was designed to introduce undergraduate students to the numerous challenges associated with managing multinational corporations (MNCs). In the course, we will emphasize the international dimensions of trades, investment, strategies and organizations, and will provide a framework that can be applied to managing in a multinational corporation.

Key elements, concepts, and tools of the course will be introduced during this semester, including MNCs motivations and mentalities; environmental challenges associated with the increasingly global nature of the world economy, strategic and competitive challenges, strategic collaboration and alliances between MNCs, organizational challenges for MNCs, challenges associated with the need to create worldwide learning organizations in order to compete effectively, challenges associated with individual managers, and future challenges for MNCs.

In the first half of the semester, we shall provide the basics for understanding cross-cultural difference and competitiveness in international business at the level of the nations. International business theories and strategic decision consideration on investment across borders are included in this half part as well. Taking advantages of those opportunities faces enormous managerial challenges, and the second half of the semester will focus on international business strategies, for instance, licensing, joint ventures, and assorted possible entry modes modern enterprises have adopted. The goal of this course is to provide the foundations for taking effective actions in the multi-faceted world of international business.

This course uses a combination of lectures, case studies, presentation and class discussion in order to expose students to the challenges facing multinational corporations and their managers. Before entering the classroom, students should be ready about the required readings, cases or chapters for further discussion in the class. The students will be grouped by no more than 6 persons, and, if necessary, one or two of the groups will be assigned to present topics related to the textbook contents, the cases, or the supplementary readings of that very session in English, within about 15 minutes each. After that presentation, lecturing and discussion will follow, and any supplementary materials, for instance, studied cases, will be distributed if any. Also, lecturers will have the rights to adjust the processes if necessary.
