課程描述 Course Description
Since 2013, all publicly listed companies in Taiwan have been required to prepare financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) to align with international standards. Throughout the course, students will learn financial accounting with IFRS. After covering Accounting Principle (I), this course delves deeply into assets such as receivables, plant assets, and investments, as well as understanding both current and non-current liabilities. Additionally, it covers equity, involving share transactions, share splits, and dividends. Moreover, students will acquire the skills to prepare and utilize the statement of cash flows to assess a company's financial well-being.
